

Imagine...

if there was a unifying voice, a courier of our human rights and our expressed interest, resonating the belief to live supportively, love, heal and be joyful as contributing powers uniting our society?

Envision...

a society where there is the experiential voice of what helps and doesn't harm, a force that empowers not oppresses, an authority that values people by content of character not as revenue generating commodities. The people's expressed resiliency of the human potential through the voice of all its people?

We must have hopes and dreams that create changes in the world.

"4 thePEOPLE OF thePEOPLE".

As we look at the world in the midst of the worldwide catastrophes, there is one underlining theme... we are all human.

Every human interprets processes and reacts to dramatic or impactful life experiences differently; however, we have more in common than not. We all need love and to give love. It is the universal truth that penetrates all human hearts. A language shared by all humans no matter what color, race or creed, a unified voice bringing unity to our community.

This is a grassroots movement, a voice of understanding, shared lived experiences heard at a national, federal, and state level. Its purpose is to prevent getting caught up in systematic cyclic pathologicalizing of human behavior dependent on chill pill solutions to traumatic human experiences often resulting in repressive life stigmatization. Instead, we come together under the supportive understanding that we have all had traumatic and substantially impactful life experiences and we now must learn how to live, love, cope and thrive together.

I would like to propose an alternative perspective and possibly a new old way of thinking, feeling and understanding for each other as humans in our humanity, addressing people with a heart2heart understanding of love, compassion and kindness.

What a new concept, of the people, for the people....

There needs to be a supportive environment created by the voice of the very people who have been subjected to the worldwide traumatic events. We all need to come together having one voice and seat at the human table to define exactly how we experienced this human tragedy, navigating past systematized service, traversing past diagnostics labels and avoiding the commoditizing bottom line of assembly line systematized services.

Stop the cycle of internalization and silence of what our true expressed interest are... This is a voyage to find our personal road to the solution that unifies our experience with others that are taking that same journey... Along the way identifying our words in a unified voice to state how and what we need to live and love to get through this and all tragedy...

imagine, OFthePEOPLE 4 thePEOPLE

We come together through our shared experiences to live and love life!!!

BELIEVE IT...BECOME IT... BE IT...
